ORIGINALS VINYL - Local brothers opened a record shop and it is the best one in Northern California.

CHINATOWN

JESSICA SILVERMAN

MISTER JIU'S - Mister Jiu's is one of my favorite restaurants in Chinatown. The food is delicious, fresh, and I always leave with a happy stomach. The Peking Duck is a must order and they make wonderful cocktails.

LITTLE JANE - Jane has many locations, but I love Little Jane on Grant because of it's cute, intimate pop-up ambiance, which features a wonderful mural by Chelsea Ryoko Wong. Little Jane's baked goods are always a must have, whether it's a cookie, sourdough, scone, kouign-amann, croissant, or any of the other delicious creations they have to offer. You always end up leaving with more baked goods than you came in for, and a very happy stomach.

CIVIC CENTER

ASIAN ART MUSEUM

ASIAN BOX - Asian Box brings the restaurant's mouthwatering menu of fast-casual, Vietnamese-influenced fare to the Asian Art Museum! A Bay Area-based, Asian American- and woman-co-owned restaurant, Asian Box offers museum visitors a chance to enjoy delicious, healthy, freshly made creations by Chef Grace Nguyen. From pho to boba, enjoy gluten-free and locally sourced meals and quick snacks.

Anyone is welcome to dine at Asian Box without a museum admission ticket during regular museum hours; menu items are also available for takeout, or guests are welcome to dine outside on the first floor patio.

DOGPATCH

ALTMAN SIEGEL

GIULIANA'S JUST FOR YOU CAFÉ - If you like diners, you will love Just For You. It's a comfort-food spot with a laid-back atmosphere and a great patio. They are known for their fried chicken Caesar salads and beignets. I'm a fan of the huevos rancheros. They make their own hatch chile sauce!

RECOMMENDED BY: BECKY KOBLICK, DIRECTOR

TACOS EL FLACO - Tacos El Flaco is so delicious and quick - it is the perfect place to grab lunch when you're gallery hopping during Fog. My go to is the fish tacos with avocado.

RECOMMENDED BY: DAELYN FARNHAM, SENIOR DIRECTOR

PICCINO - Piccino is the perfect spot for a casual dinner in Dogpatch. We often go after openings or bring clients and colleagues there for lunch because of the great seasonal menu and welcoming ambiance. They also have an amazing coffee bar in the mornings with great pastries.

RECOMMENDED BY: CLAUDIA ALTMAN-SIEGEL, FOUNDER

PICCINO COFFEE BAR - Hands down best coffee and the staff is awesome. I usually just get a coffee, but their pastries and Italian sandwiches are delicious too.

RECOMMENDED BY: VANESSA BLAIKIE, CO-OWNER

SOUVLA (DOGPATCH) - It's basically California inspired fresh Greek food, super casual and quick! Their chicken & kale salad is amazing. They have 5 locations across the city and one in the North Bay. I get teased that I love a "chain" restaurant, but I don't care... the salad is fresh, delicious and hardy! Not to mention their french fries are killer, plus adding their homemade hot sauce makes them perfect!

MINNESOTA STREET
PROJECT

BESHARAM - Tucked inside Minnesota Street Project, a contemporary art gallery space within San Francisco's historic Dogpatch district, Besharam is an Indian restaurant showcasing regional Gujarati cuisine from chef/owner Heena Patel. Roughly translated to mean "shameless," Besharam features Heena's bold interpretation of the flavors and dishes that were prevalent throughout her childhood in India, playfully reimagined within a California context. Open for lunch Thursday-Sunday and dinner Wednesday-Sunday.

VERJUS - Verjus is a beloved Jackson Square wine bar and restaurant owned by renowned Chef Michael Tusk and his lovely wife Lindsay Tusk in San Francisco's Jackson Square, serving seasonally changing French-inspired cuisine, and eclectic wines. They've just reopened and accept both walk-ins and reservations. It's a must to experience, and located directly across from Transamerica Pyramid Center.

CAFE ZOETROPE - Named for Francis Coppola's venerable production company, American Zoetrope, Cafe Zoetrope is located in the majestic Sentinel Building, a San Francisco historic landmark in the heart of North Beach. Cafe Zoetrope, opened in 1999, was created with much thought from Coppola. Many of the items on the menu are his own recipes and the European ambiance is something he cultivated. The Cafe functions as a wine bar and a restaurant in the style of a Roman Trattoria.

BIX - Bix is an iconic restaurant and jazz supper club in San Francisco, known for its swanky, speakeasy-style ambiance and classic American cuisine. Located in a hidden alleyway in the Jackson Square neighborhood, Bix is a favorite for those seeking a refined yet lively dining experience with live music.

CONTEMPORARY ART

COTOGNA RESTAURANT - Cotogna is one of our all time favorite restaurants, and in our opinion the best Italian restaurant in San Francisco. Located across the street from Scott Richards Contemporary Art, on the corner of Montgomery and Pacific Avenues in historic Jackson Square, Cotogna features delicious house-made pastas, spit-roasted and grilled meats, pizzas and seafood roasted in the restaurant's wood-burning oven. The restaurant is a more casual counterpart to Quince, Chef Michael and Lindsay Tusk's decorated fine dining restaurant next door.

RECOMMENDED BY: ALINA RICHARDS

POSTSCRIPT - For lunch, dinner, at any time, and for any occasion. The food is always exceptional, making Italians proud, in a warm, welcoming environment with its own Jackson Square twist. And somehow they make it seem effortless.

YOYO'S - Yoyo's is my go-to spot for takeout during my lunch break. My favorite menu items include their Udon (especially when served with dumplings), chicken teriyaki rice bowl, salmon rolls, and red bean mochi. The owners, Lydia and Joseph, are lovely people, and it's always uplifting to chat with them. Definitely stop by if you're in the area!

RECOMMENDED BY: CRYSTAL LIU

BAR SPREZZATURA - Oozing with style, brass, and velvet, this is a perfect spot for a stylish liquid lunch. The staff are friendly, knowledgeable, and sophisticated to match the upscale environment. Great cocktails and a wonderful selection of wines. Never underestimate the power of pizza al taglio.

HAINES GALLERY - Founded on the belief that contemporary art can change the conversation and transform the culture, Haines Gallery is a vital West Coast platform for celebrated and ambitious artists from around the globe. The gallery's program aims to engage and inspire collectors, curators, and diverse audiences with artistic statements that are visually compelling and conceptually rigorous.

SF CAMERAWORK

THE INTERVAL - The Interval is a bar, café, museum, and the home of The Long Now Foundation. Featuring a floor-to-ceiling library of the books you might need to rebuild civilization, mechanical prototypes for a clock meant to last for 10,000 years, art that continually evolves in real time, and a time-inspired menu of artisan drinks.

CULTIVAR - Cultivar San Francisco is an intimate farm to table restaurant by Cultivar Wine, featuring a menu of locally-sourced seasonal ingredients, flavors from the Napa Valley. Cultivar Wine is known for limited production wines that express terroir from the best California wine appellations.

THE HEATH COLLECTIVE

SF HEATH CERAMICS SHOWROOM - The San Francisco location of the historic 1948 pottery. While all dinnerware is still made in the company's Sausalito factory, this showroom fronts Heath's urban tile factory. The warm and inviting showroom itself showcases everything Heath, from dinnerware and tile to a curated selection of home goods and even a chef's kitchen area featuring cookbooks and food favorites.

RECOMMENDED BY: ROBIN, OWNER OF HEATH CERAMICS

AESTHETIC UNION - Aesthetic Union is one of the last remaining letterpress print studios in the Bay Area. They provide a physical space for creation & collaboration so that everyone has access to letterpress printing services, equipment, and education. Their store also doubles as a pressroom and storefront where you can find aesthetic stationary and prints.

HEIRLOOM CAFE - Heirloom Cafe stands out in a neighborhood renowned for its excellent food. Co-owner Amy Siemers is the perfect host—affable, warm, and incredibly knowledgeable about food and wine. Heirloom is akin to the brasserie you've always dreamed of, without any hint of pretension. It's an ideal spot for a spontaneous meal at the bar or a romantic date night for two (or with friends— the more, the merrier!). Don't miss the stellar off-menu Epoisses burger or their exceptional wine list, which is among the best in the city.

MEZCAL - Oaxacan food is one of Mexico's most celebrated and complex cuisines. Mezcal Owner and Oaxacan native Adolfo Gomez moved to San Jose from Oaxaca, Mexico, 20 years ago. Gomez served as the Operations Manager at the Silicon Valley Capital Club restaurant for 10 years and also worked on opening Mezcal for five years. Longing for Oaxacan food and the tastes of home, Gomez's vision of Mezcal Restaurant was realized in November 2008 and was voted one of the "2009 Best New Restaurants" by Metro Newspaper. Bringing the rich flavors of Oaxaca to San Jose, Mezcal Restaurant specializes in three Oaxacan moles (sauces) - Estofado, Coloradito and Mole Negro - all family recipes that have been passed down from generation to generation. For the more adventurous food-lover Mezcal also serves chapulines (fried grasshoppers) a common and delicious snack found throughout Oaxaca.

Whatever your palate may be, Mezcal strives to satisfy each of its customers with its traditional, fresh and authentic cuisine.
